

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER THE COMPETITION CLOSES?

The competition closes at the end of June 2017.

We will inform the winners (three in each category) by the end of September. This will be that they have been selected, but not tell them more than that. We have decided to keep that information for the Prizegiving. If you have not heard by the end of September it means that your submission was not selected.

Thanks to our partnership with the Printspace they have offered their Shoreditch gallery for the DPoTY winners awards ceremony on 19 October and for a two week exhibition. They have also offered to produce all printing & mounting of all images to be included in the DPOTY exhibition. Images to be printed on any TPS paper type and mounted to foamex substrate.

The RPS Documentary Photographer of the Year is proudly supported by theprintspace. Their online platform: thehub allows artists and photographers to easily promote & sell fine art limited edition prints of their work and order award-winning prints, mounts and frames for exhibitions.
