

Soviet Space Dog Memorabilia from Martin Parr 24 July 6.30

These objects tell the story of the earliest space flights, the first of which took place in 1951.

The Soviets loved and respected the bravery and valour of these little dogs and so they were very popular and appeared on all kinds of objects like confectionary tins and cigarette packaging. The photographs of these dogs became iconic images.

Address: The Royal Photographic Society, RPS House, 337 Paintworks, Arnos Vale, Bristol, BS4 3AR

Please see our contact page <http://rps.org/contact> which will show you how to find us.

Please be aware that the car park in the Paintworks on a weekday is limited to three hours, though there is no time limit at the weekend. You can book a place to park your car nearby at this link:

<https://www.yourparkingspace.co.uk/locations/show/4294938009>